About the Author

Ali Mert Aykor was born in Şişli - Istanbul, on the 10th of April 1961.

His father, Onur, was a medical doctor in gynaecology and general surgery, and his mother, Çağlayan, a housewife.

He and his younger sister Arzu grew up in the town of Bad Sobernheim an der Nahe, in the Bundesland Rheinland-Pfalz / Germany during 1964-79.

A. Mert Aykor began there firstly with his state preschool education at the Kindergarten; he then continued with the state primary school education at the Staatliche Grundschule Bad Sobernheim and carried on with the state secondary school education at the Staatliche Realschule Bad Sobernheim.

At the age of eighteen, he returned with his family back to Suadiye - Istanbul, where he proceeded with his high school education at the Doğuş College during 1979-80.

Upon accomplishment of his military service, in the Turkish Army during 1981-83 as an infantry soldier in Sivas and Bursa, he attended his state higher education at the Istanbul University – Faculty of Literature, during 1983-87, where he studied German and English Studies, Turkish Studies and Modern Turkish History as well as Pedagogy.

Furthermore, he studied Business Studies with his family's support, at The Institute of Commercial Management in London and Bournemouth / England, during 1987-89.
